PRODUCTION

Featuring practical effects by two-time Academy Award nominee Arjen Tuiten (“Wonder,” “Pan’s Labyrinth,” and upcoming “Ghostbusters: Afterlife”) based on concept designs by WETA Workshop.

Synopsis

Estranged sisters Heidi and Jordan have been driving all night when they come across a dilapidated roadside park and rest stop. Horrific events follow when a mischievous resident inhabiting the bathroom demands to play a terrifying version of a child’s game.

SEEK

Director's Statement

I was inspired to make "SEEK" after going on a road trip and seeing all the rundown and shuttered rest stops out in the middle of nowhere. My imagination ran wild with the possibilities of what could be dwelling inside the bones of these long-forgotten structures.

"SEEK" is a small part of a larger mythology. The goal is to expand this world into a feature to tell the full, and terrifying, story of the Lonely Child.

I'm proud of our incredibly talented crew that tirelessly worked at the top of their craft to bring this short to you. From all of us, thank you for watching.

Aaron Morgan is an Austin-based filmmaker who has premiered multiple short films at SXSW ("Blind") and Fantastic Fest ("No Way Out," "Plan B").

He also co-wrote a feature script ("The Home") with Eric Vespe that sold to producer Elizabeth Avellan. Morgan and Vespe have several new projects in various stages of development.
